Bass-Baritone

Indian-Scottish Neil Balfour, is an opera singer and the first to be booked by the Glastonbury Festival as an artist "I cannot believe how powerful his voice is. I have never seen opera like he does it" - Haggis McLeod, head-programmer. He is the first performer to beatbox in an opera at Longborough Festival Opera and has premiered lead roles in Al-Haytham's Light for English Touring Opera, Mysterious 44 (the first electronic opera) and La-La (role sponsored by the opera awards) in A Shoe Full of Stars (YAM Awards Best Opera 2018).

Currently an Emerging Artist at the National Opera Studio, a Samling Artist, the first classical sE Artist, a former Britten-Pears and Concordia Artist, director of www.artsongstory.com (compelling videos of classical art-song and their stories) and founder of the Koko Concerts (emerging classical stars in a coffee shop). Neil is also in partnership with Penhaligon's British perfume house, GIK Acoustics and Kapow meggings. His voice-overs for YouTube channels have over 100 million views.
